

DEFENSE ACQUISITION UNIVERSITY

ACQ 405 - Executive Refresher Course

150223

Course Learning/Performance Objectives followed by its enabling learning objectives on separate lines if specified.

1	Given the latest policy requirements, the student will interpret current acquisition policy, process, and lessons-learned while examining their role as an acquisition leader. (Fundamentals)
2	Given presentations by acquisition leaders, students will examine their role in this changing environment. (General Interest)
3	Given real world acquisition management scenarios, the student will critique comparative management styles and techniques to determine a personalized approach to various situations.
4	Given guest speaker-led discussions and presentations on contemporary management and leadership topics, the student will defend a personalized leadership report and presentation on a selected leadership topic.
5	Given in class exercises, guest speaker discussions and/or presentations, the student will assess the characteristics that contribute to the changing and challenging acquisition environment.